THE INGRAMM ESTATE.—An advertisement in another column gives notice of a meeting of the heirs at the Astor House, New York, on the 24th inst. Some weeks ago was published an account of this claim, with the following statement from the New York papers that the long-lost will was found. If this proves correct, the heirs in this country will come into possession of a vast estate. The following is the correct version:—

Joseph Wilson, of Leeds, Yorkshire, England, who died abatingly, left by will and deed of trust his estate to the descendants (entailed to the fifth generation) of his only son, Sarah, who married Edward, of Leeds, Yorkshire, (thereby displacing her father), and removed to Boston, Mass., and this Edward and Sarah Cowell had only one child, Sarah by name, who married Thomas Ingraham, and removed to Bristol, R. I. In 1800 the estate at the death of the grandfather comprised a large tract of land with a mill, and a few other things, but of little comparative value, it being unsettled, with little or no annual income, and entailed unavailability to sell. The heirs, being at that distance in a foreign country, did not look after it. The land having a fine stream of water flowing through it, became in time a great manufacturing place, and the value of the property increased to such an extent that the estate was worth $40,000 per annum. Solomon Ingraham, an East Indian, who had married Sarah, died in 1803, and placed the papers relating to the estate in the hands of Mr. Erskine, an eminent lawyer, afterwards Lord Erskine, who stated that the name of the property at the time of the testator was $40,000 per annum. Solomon Ingraham soon after died in Calcutta. Nothing further was done until the year 1853, when it was learned that London papers had advertised for the heirs of the estate. Evidence sufficient was gathered to show that the original document, together with the will, were in the hands of some of the Ingrahams, but as many of the descendants at an early day removed to the West, it was difficult to find them, the different branches having changed their residences. Among the direct heirs in this city are the families of William J. Ingraham, Commodore Bokon, and the late General John A. Ahmad, Mr. Gilbert B. Gladding, of Providence, R. I., spent many years in patient research in England and America, obtaining the name of the heirs, and in 1853, he learned that London papers had advertised for the heirs of the estate. What was deemed almost worthless land by the testator in 1800, is now covered with extensive manufacturing establishments and other buildings worth at least $100,000,000 (one hundred millions), which property he has endeavored to have made except through the heirs of Timothy and Sarah Ingraham.

A SCANDAL IN CUSTODY.—Yesterday morning Officer Lamback observed a suspicious looking individual lurking around the front of the City Hotel, Richmond Park, and after he observed him go up to a little girl, eight years of age, and take her into the saloon and buy some refreshments. The officer thinking that everything was not all right, and something wrong, concluded to watch the man. The officer dressed himself in a suit of citizen's dress, and went to the saloon to a secluded spot in the bushes, at the upper end of the Park, along the bank of the river, where the villain attempted to outrage the little girl. He was seen by the officer, who immediately locked up in the Ninth District Station House. He was held in $1500 bail to answer at Court. His name is William Hall.

A WARNING TO YOUNG MEN.—This morning, in the Quaker meeting, Benjamin Franklin Wells, an enlisted soldier, was discharged from the army by his Honor Judge Pierce, on the ground that he was a minor. He was produced in Court by Colonel Park, recruiting officer. Immediately after his discharge he was arrested by the United States authorities, and brought before United States Commissioner Smith upon the charge of perjury, having sworn on the 17th inst., before Colonel Park, that he was twenty-two years of age. He was held in $1000 bail to answer at Court.

This is the first case of the kind in which the United States authorities have taken action, and the young men whose patriotism is not strong enough to give the time of their enlistment should take warning, as all offenders in the future will be punished to the full extent of the law.

THE IMPROVEMENT TESTIMONY.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE EVENING TELEGRAPH.] WASHINGTON, July 20.—The House has just voted, yeas 57, nays 43, instructing the Judiciary Committee to report forthwith to the House all the testimony taken in the impeachment case.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS. Senate. WASHINGTON, July 20.—Mr. Harlan (Iowa) moved that the Senate take up the House bill regulating the election of officers of the Army and Navy, and that all officers not elected by the people shall be chosen by the two branches of the City Council in joint session.

The point of order was raised that the consideration of the bill was out of order, as it was not the subject of the resolution, and it was decided that the bill could not be taken up.

Mr. Conklin (N.Y.) asked Mr. Chandler how he voted on the resolution to reconsider the vote on the resolution for adjournment.

Mr. Chandler (Iowa) voted in the negative.

Mr. Chandler (Iowa) cannot now reconsider. Mr. Chandler said he would vote that the Clerk be instructed not to communicate the resolution to the House.

Several Senators suggested that this resolution was not in order.

Mr. Chandler then said that he noticed that the Senators who had voted for this resolution were the same who had voted last spring against an extra session of Congress.

In the course of his remarks he referred to Mr. Chandler's resolution to reconsider the vote on the Reconstruction laws of Congress. He hoped that the Reconstruction laws would be provided for a meeting again at an early day.

Mr. Anthony (R. I.) interrupted Mr. Chandler to say that the duty of the Secretary to communicate the resolution of the Senate to the House was not in question.

After further remarks Mr. Chandler said he had been informed that the Clerk had communicated the resolution to the House, and that the Clerk be instructed to return the resolution to the House.

There was a sort of hybrid concern in the Senate concerning a conservative Republicanism. Like all other hybrids, it was incapable of reproduction.

Mr. Clark (Ohio), from the Committee on Printing, reported a resolution for printing two copies of certain chapters of the report of the Committee on the Affairs of the United States.

Mr. Banks (Mass.), from the Committee on Indian Affairs, reported back the Senate bill to carry into effect the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved March 3, 1854, for the adjustment of claims of the United States citizens against the Government of that Republic.

Mr. Robinson (N. J.) stated that the document, which had not been read, showed that the Examiner of Claims and the State Auditor had reported in favor of Captain McCaffrey.

On motion of Mr. Winson (Miss.), his own name as one of the Commissioners was struck out, and that of Mr. Winson was substituted.

The bill was further amended, on motion of Mr. Winson, to insert the name of Mr. Winson as one of the Commissioners, and inserting in lieu of them the following:—
